Know Your Rights

Request that your Union Representative be present!

U.S. Supreme Court ruled in 1975 "Weingarten" that an employee has certain rights when questioned by their employer. The following are rights that were granted under this case. It applies only when your employer is interviewing you for the purposes of determining whether discipline is warranted. It does not apply when the discipline is already decided.

1. You have a right to Union representation, but you must ask for that representation.
2. You must ask for Union representation from the person doing the questioning. The questioner must be told that you do not want to proceed without Union representation.
3. If the discipline has already been decided upon by the Employer, your right to representation is not there; however, you only need to listen – you do NOT have to answer any further questions.
4. This rule does NOT apply to everyday conversations between a supervisor and an employee regarding performance of job duties and normal work performance.
5. After you have requested Union representation, the Employer rights are:
 - a. They can grant your request and bring in a Union Representative.
 - b. They can discontinue the interview and proceed with the investigation without your participation.
 - c. The Employer can offer you the choice of proceeding without Union representation.

Remember:

What you say can be used against you. Know your rights!
Demand Union representation when you are facing discipline.

STEP 1. Any employee who believes that the Employer has violated any of the terms or conditions of this contract in relation to his/her employment shall be considered to have a complaint and such employee shall immediately and promptly take such complaint to the immediate supervisor.

Such employee and supervisor shall attempt to resolve said complaint. No complaint will be considered by any supervisor or representative of the Employer unless it is brought to the attention of the supervisor or representative of the Employer within five (5) days or its alleged occurrence, except as hereinafter provided as to wages.

STEP 2. If said employee and supervisor cannot resolve said complaint within such five (5) day period, the employee shall reduce the complaint to writing which shall be considered a grievance. The grievance shall be so reduced to writing and submitted within ten (10) days after the occurrence of the alleged violation of this Agreement to the Employer; provided, however, that complaints or grievance as to the amount of money due and payable to any employee for wages, hours worked, APPL allowances and days off may be filed and furnished to the Employer within thirty (30) days after the first regular payday following the occurrence of such alleged violation relating to such wages. Failure to give any such notice or follow the time frames of any grievance shall constitute a permanent waiver and bar of the grievance and the employee shall be forever foreclosed from raising any complaint or grievance in regard thereto. The representatives of the Employer and the Union shall immediately after the submission of such grievance, in writing, by mutual negotiations, attempt to arrive at a satisfactory settlement thereof. After such grievance is reduced to and submitted in writing, the employee shall be represented by the Business Representative of the Union or such other persons as may be designated by the Union to represent such employee, not exceeding, however, three (3) in number.

STEP 3. If such grievance cannot be settled promptly between the parties within five (5) calendar days after the delivery of written notice of the grievance, the matter may be submitted to an arbitrator by either party. Such an appeal to arbitration shall be in writing and served on the other party. A representative of the Employer and representative of the Union shall attempt to select such arbitrator. A coin toss shall determine who strikes the arbitrator off the list first. If they cannot agree upon the arbitrator, then either the Employer or the Union may request the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service to submit a list of five (5) names from which the arbitrator shall be selected by elimination. The decision or award of said arbitrator shall be final and binding upon the parties. The expenses and remuneration of the arbitrator shall be borne by the parties equally.

- 6.2 The Union will not authorize, assist or support any strike or stoppage of work because of any matter covered by this Agreement for which procedure for settlement herein provided is available, but has not been utilized. Participation in any strike, slow-down or stoppage of work brought either by action of the Union in violation of this Agreement or by action of individuals or groups without Union authority shall be just cause for dismissal or discipline by the Employer, subject to the grievance procedure herein provided.
- 6.3 At any step in this grievance procedure, the Executive Committee of the Local Union shall have the final authority in respect to any aggrieved employee covered by this Agreement to decline to process a grievance, complaint, difficulty or dispute further if in the judgement of the Executive Committee such grievance or dispute lacks merit or lacks justification under the terms of this Agreement to the satisfaction of the Union Executive Committee.

Alternative Schedule One

A. Employer Contributions. Contributing Employers are required to make increased contributions to the Pension Plan in the amount of $0.29 per hour beginning January 1, 2020. Employer contributions that were in effect under the predecessor collective bargaining will remain in effect and those contributions that were previously not subject to the benefit formula will remain non-benefiting.

B. Effect on Benefits. Adoption of Alternative Schedule One will result in an increase in the future benefits available to Plan participants who are covered by the collective bargaining agreement which adopts it. The benefit increase is commensurate with the increase in employer contributions to the Plan called for by Alternative Schedule One, because the increased contribution will be subject to the Plan's benefit formula which provides a benefit of one percent (1%) of employer contributions per month.

Alternative Schedule Two

A. Employer Contributions. Contributing Employers are required to make increased contributions to the Pension Plan in the amounts specified in the table below:

Date of First Increased Contribution	Amount of Contribution Increase
January 1, 2020	$0.10 per hour
January 1, 2021	$0.12 per hour
January 1, 2022	$0.14 per hour

The contribution increases called for by the above table are cumulative. For example, as of January 1, 2022, the cumulative increased contribution will be $0.36 per hour. Employer contributions that were in effect under the predecessor collective bargaining will remain in effect and those contributions that were previously not subject to the benefit formula will remain non-benefiting.

B. Effect on Benefits. Adoption of Alternative Schedule Two will result in an increase in the future benefits available to Plan participants who are covered by the collective bargaining agreement which adopts it. The benefit increases are commensurate with the increases in employer contributions to the Plan called for by Alternative Schedule Two, because the increased contributions will be subject to the Plan's benefit formula which provides a benefit of one percent (1%) of employer contributions per month. The increases in benefits will occur as the increases in contributions take effect.

Alternative Schedule Three

A. Employer Contributions. Contributing Employers are required to make increased contributions to the Pension Plan in the amount of $0.20 per hour beginning January 1, 2020. Employer contributions that were in effect under the predecessor collective bargaining will remain in effect and those contributions that were previously not subject to the benefit formula will remain non-benefiting. The increased contribution required by Alternative Schedule Three will also be non-benefiting except as determined by Paragraph B below.

B. Effect on Benefits. Adoption of Alternative Schedule Three will not result in an immediate increase in the future benefits available to Plan participants. However, the increased contribution called for by Paragraph A above will become benefiting for future benefit accruals, effective on January 1st of the first Plan Year as to which the Plan actuary certifies the Plan as being in neither endangered or critical status (sometimes referred to as the "green zone") and, further, that causing the increased contribution to be benefiting will not cause the Plan to fall out of the green zone. The benefit increase then occurring will be commensurate with the increase in employer contributions to the Plan called for by Alternative Schedule Three, because the increased contribution will then be subject to the Plan's benefit formula which provides a benefit of one percent (1%) of employer contributions per month.

Default Schedule

The Plan was subject to a previous Rehabilitation Plan, effective November 27, 2010, which had the effect of reducing future accruals and other benefits to the maximum extent of the law. For that reason, the Default Schedule implements only contribution increases necessary for the Plan to emerge from critical status.

A. Employer Contributions. Contributing Employers are required to make increased contributions to the Pension Plan in the amount of $0.20 per hour beginning January 1, 2020. Employer contributions that were in effect under the predecessor collective bargaining will remain in effect and those contributions that were previously not subject to the benefit formula will remain non-benefiting. The increased contribution required by the Default Schedule will also be non-benefiting.

B. Effect on Benefits. Adoption of the Default Schedule will not affect future benefits available to Plan participants

EMPLOYER'S AND UNION'S RECOGNITION THAT FAILURE TO ADOPT REHABILITATION PLAN WILL RESULT IN SURCHARGES TO EMPLOYER

Employer and the Union recognize that if this MOU is not executed on or before May 30, 2019, that the following surcharges, as required by the Pension Protection Act, will apply:

- 5% of the contributions for hours worked on and after June 1, 2019 through December 31, 2019 (or, if earlier, when the MOU is adopted).
- 10% of the contributions for hours worked on and after January 1, 2020 until a satisfactory MOU is adopted.

Employer and the Union further recognize that this Surcharge cannot be waived and non-payment by an Employer must be treated as a violation of federal law and is subject to liquidated damages and interest charges.

EMPLOYER'S AND UNION'S RECOGNITION THAT DEFAULT SCHEDULE MAY BE IMPOSED

If a collective bargaining agreement providing for contributions to the Plan that was in effect on January 1, 2019 expires, and after receiving the Rehabilitation Plan Default Schedule, the bargaining parties fail to adopt one of the prescribed Schedules, the Default Schedule will be implemented automatically 180 days after the date on which the collective bargaining agreement expires. Furthermore, the surcharges will continue to be imposed until the bargaining parties adopt one of the prescribed Schedules.

EMPLOYER'S AND UNION'S RECOGNITION THAT REHABILITATION PLAN MAY BE AMENDED

The Employer recognizes that the Trustees of the Plan may need to amend the Rehabilitation Plan, and that the Rehabilitation Plan is monitored and reviewed by the Trustees and their service providers each year.
